Hello Readers! After such a grand vacation, it is good to be back in school. Everyone seems quite busy getting adjusted and down to the work expected of us this year.

New subjects offered are: Physics, shorthand and music. One new member has been added to our faculty, Miss Sergeon, a graduate of Bennett College in Greensboro, North Carolina. They are sixth and fifth grade teachers, respectively.

We were pleased to see the clearing, grading, and seeding of our playground area and the lining and varnishing of our gym. All of this makes us want to engage in more activities and also new activities.

WATER YOUR PLANTS DURING FALL MONTHS

Dry weather over some areas of the country makes it necessary to water ornamental trees and shrubs on the home property to help them through the winter months, says the American Association of Nurserymen. Many home owners tend to neglect the watering after the summer months have passed and cooler weather arrives, but plants need sufficient moisture even during the dormant season.

In the colder areas all plants need to be watered until the ground freezes. Where natural rainfall has been sufficient this, of course, is not necessary. In the naturally dry areas of the country many plants will not survive the winter months unless they have sufficient water about the roots. A good soaking with a sprinkler for 4 to 6 hours once a week is sufficient. After a long dry spell it takes days of rain before the soil contails enough water.

Home Agent's Notes

By Mrs. B. G. Anderson
Appomattox Home Agent

Many 4-H members, vocational agricultural and home eocnomics members as well as adults will have a great variety of exhibts on display at the 5-county fair in Farmville this week. The county council is putting on their electric project exhibit, and the Pamplin 4-H club, assisted by Mrs. J. A. Williams, Mrs. Arleen Harvey and Mrs. R. K. Martin are putting up educational exhibits to show some phase of the county program.

The Clover Hill Home Demonstration Club held its belated picnic this month in connection with their regular meeting. What spread of good eats! The luncheon was held at the home of Mrs. J. L. Torrence. One of the dishes Mrs. Torrence had prepared and served hot was grated sweet potato pudding, which was greatly enjoyed by all. So, I asked Mrs. Torrence for the recipe. If you haven't made it, ever, or recently, try it:

Grated sweet potato pudding:
Grate 2 medium sweet potatoes
Cream together:
2eggs
1/2 stick of butter
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups sweet milk
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon vanilla

Add to the above mixture, the grated potato, and stir well. Be sure the milk mixture comes up over the potatoes. Pour in baking dish, sprinkle top with sugar and bake for one hour.
